ABOUT ME

My name is Divya Prakash Singh, and I am currently pursuing a Bachelor of Technology (B.Tech) in Electronics and Communication Engineering at Supaul College of Engineering. I have a strong passion for frontend development and enjoy creating visually appealing, user-friendly web interfaces. My coursework and projects have provided me with a solid foundation in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and modern frontend frameworks. I am eager to apply my interdisciplinary skills and continue learning in a professional setting.

PROJECTS

LIVE STREAMING SOFTWARE

Dec 2023 - Jan 2024

Developed a real-time live streaming platform inspired by Streamyard. Utilized Node.js, Socket.io, and ffmpeg for real-time video processing. Implemented responsive UI with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Leveraged Docker for containerized user sessions, ensuring scalable, efficient resource management. Enabled users to broadcast live video to RTMP servers seamlessly.

MY PERSONAL PORTFOLIO

Jan 2024 - Feb 2024

"Developed a professional portfolio using React.js for dynamic interfaces, Tailwind CSS for modern styling, and React-Router for seamless navigation. Showcases my web development projects, skills, and experiences. Designed to offer an intuitive and visually appealing user experience, demonstrating my expertise in frontend development."

WEATHER FORECASTING

Aug 2023 - Aug 2023

"Developed a Weather Forecasting App using React.js for dynamic UI, Tailwind CSS for modern design, and API integration for real-time weather updates. The app delivers accurate, up-to-date weather information with a user-friendly interface, showcasing my skills in frontend development and API utilization."
